About CLC

Christian Learning Centers of Greenville County exists to provide Biblical instruction for school-aged children as an opportunity to encourage them to embrace the Gospel of Jesus Christ, grow in the Christian faith, and apply Biblical principles for living.

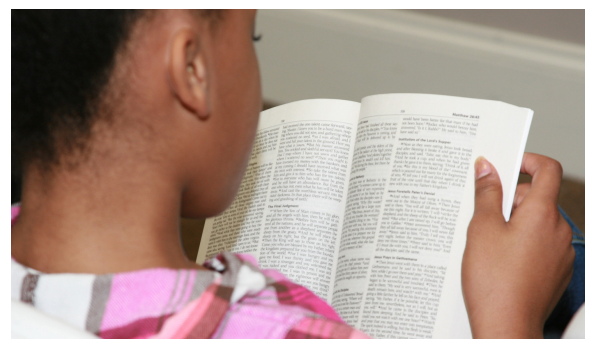

Since the inception of Christian Learning Centers of Greenville County (CLC) in 1997, we have served a little more than 19,000 public school students through our Released-Time Christian Education program. More importantly, about 2,300 Released-Time students have committed their lives to Jesus Christ since our organization's inception.

About Released-Time Christian Education

The CLC Sponsored Released-Time Christian Education program allows students (with parental consent) to receive Biblical instruction during the school day in an off-campus classroom during a related arts class period. Middle school students attend Released-Time Bible class once a week and make up any schoolwork that they miss to do so. High school students attend an accredited Bible course as an elective and receive a Carnegie Unit for each Bible course successfully completed. Their Bible classes are held off school campus, and parental consent is required.

Benefits

- Students study the Bible during school hours when they are ready to learn. They are accustomed to thinking and interacting with a subject while they are in school.
- Participating in Released-Time:
 - Improves student scores in comprehension, spelling and vocabulary (National Council on Crime and Delinquency, 2003).
 - Reinforces positive moral and character development; it provides positive adult role models for youth and offers students the opportunity to participate in positive peer groups.
 - Provides students another opportunity to learn about Jesus Christ and respond to the Gospel.
- The program brings churches together in a common goal of sharing the Gospel with others. When churches work together, it benefits non-Christians (John 13:35).
- Released-Time assists the school in shaping better students. Better students make better schools. Better schools make better families and communities. Better communities make a better nation.

Testimonials

"God has been so good to our Released-Time Bible class at Travelers Rest High School! I have been blessed to teach these students the truths of Scripture and get to know their unique personalities and backgrounds. I believe that God is strengthening those who already know Christ and is drawing some unto Himself. One student in Bible 102 shared that she is not a Christian, but believes that God has put her in this class in order that she can come to know Him!"

Madeline Bolyard, Bible Instructor, Travelers Rest High School

"Through CLC, every student in Greenville County is offered a three-year chronological survey of the Bible from Creation to Christ. I cannot think of a better opportunity for churches than to partner together, serve their local schools, reach into their surrounding neighborhoods and families, and mentor youth in the most critical years of their development."

Ruthanne Lauhoff, Coordinator, Hughes Academy

"I was on the wrong path in life. This Bible class saved me."

Student, Travelers Rest High School

"I've shared [what I've learned] with my family."

Student, Hughes Academy
